VARIOUS MATTERS.

Tomorrow is the old English Shrove

Sunday.

Only two days after today for pre-

Lenten gayeties.

Church societies in several places are holding ice carnivals.

Rising temperature caused the ice to vanish, Friday afternoon.

Since the ice melted, the big buds of the magnolias are showing green.

As Monday is a legal holiday, there will be a rush of banking business today.

The larger cities of Connecticut have started a crusade against unsafe theater buildings.

Friday was observed as Missionary day in Congregational churches in a number of towns.

This year Memorial day comes on Sunday, so that religious services will be eminently fitting.

The official post cards for the fund to help the starving earthquake sufferers are being received through the mail.

Rev. P. C. Wright will speak at the Central Baptist church Sunday morning on the topic, "A Perplexed Judge." His evening topic will be

"Well Born."—adv.

HORSE FELL INTO CELLAR.

Animal Believed Dead, Comes To and Gets Out Without a Scratch.

There was considerable excitement for a while about noon on Friday when the horse stable on East Main street, caused by a horse that slipped through an opening in the floor into the cellar and at one time it was given up for dead, or nearly so, but later recovered and came out on his own without a scratch on his body. The injuries are under way at the barn and a new stall was made for the horse, but when he was put into it he backed out and under it for his escape. Therefore he could be stopped he had gone into a hole in the floor and finally slipped through into the manure pit in the cellar.

He went down between two joists which were from 12 to 14 inches apart for some time he lay perfectly quiet and it was concluded that the fall had killed him, but finally he was seen to shake his head and then he got up and began to walk around under the barn. To get him out at the back of the barn a large quantity of the mature had to be shoveled out of the way and some of the work that had been done by the carpenters taken down again.

Held by Workingmen's Circle in T.

A. B. Hall Largely Attended.

Workingmen's circle, No. 128, held its second annual masquerade Friday evening in T. A. B. hall, filling the hall with its members and their friends.

And making a great success of the dance programme which was carried out from 8 p. m. to 2 a. m. The grand entrance of 40 couples, with many handsome costumes, was led by Max Henrich and Morris Taft, the latter completely disguised in the clothes of a woman, with a large red picture hat.

Several prizes were given, a statue going to Mr. and Mrs. Max Henrich as first prize. They were costumed as gypsies. Second prize, a mirror, was given to Miss Shapiro, Miss Solomon and Miss Lulu. For juvenile costume prizes were given to Louis Schwartz and Miss Y. V. Solomon.

The music was by Baker's orchestra.
